

Hiking the Colorado Trail

The iconic Colorado Trail, a nearly 500-mile hike from Denver to Durango, passes over eight mountain ranges, through six Wilderness Areas, close by three 14,000 foot peaks, and tests the hiker with 90,000 feet of elevation gain and loss. It is an adventure of a lifetime and a tour through the most spectacular outdoor landscape Colorado has to offer. Thru-hikes of the Trail are not easy. There is pain, suffering, and, yes, unbelievable hiker stench. These create the crucible by which ordinary experience is transformed into profound experience. No one finishes a thru-hike the same person. If you are up for a test, if you crave adventure, if a little personal transformation sounds like something you could use, come join 2014 thru-hiker David Fanning as he tells his story of spectacular beauty, extraordinary friendship, and youth regained along the Colorado Trail.

Presented by: David Fanning

DATE: Wednesday, March 25, 2015

TIME: Social time starts at 7 pm and the presentation starts at 7:30 pm

LOCATION: Fort Collins Senior Center, 1200 Raintree Drive, room 3

SPONSORING GROUP: Fort Collins Colorado Mountain Club

CONTACT: Bob Dietz , cmc.program.director@gmail.com

