

Roger Wolfe presents Rocky Mountain Reflections

Roger Wolfe is an award winning journalist who spent more than 35 years as a television news reporter in Colorado, Ohio and Illinois.

For more than two decades Roger was the Northern Newsroom Reporter for 9News in Denver, covering many stories in Rocky Mountain National Park and the Colorado Rockies. His specialty is feature reporting and he excels at telling stories in human terms. Some of his stories have aired on NBC Nightly News, The Today Show, and CNN. He won an Emmy Award for coverage of Pope John Paul II's visit to Colorado, and an Edward R. Murrow Award for a series on schizophrenia. Roger was named Colorado Broadcaster of the Year in 2005.

Since retiring from 9News, Roger has continued to produce videos for local businesses and organizations. In 2011 he was an Artist in Residence at Rocky Mountain National Park which gave him an opportunity to concentrate on producing a documentary - "Rocky Mountain Reflections".

Roger and his wife Deborah live in Fort Collins, Colorado and enjoy hiking, camping, skiing, biking, kayaking and other outdoor activities in the Rockies. They have also traveled extensively throughout Europe as well as Morocco, South Africa, Tanzania, Turkey, Costa Rica, Mexico, Belize, and Ecuador.
